TENNESSEE CENTENNIAL

What Mrs. Kirkman Has Done for the Great Southern Exposition.
Mrs. Van Leer Kirkman, of Nashville, president of the woman's department of the Tennessee centennial, is a southern woman by birth. From school she entered society, wherein she won distinction as one of the most beautiful belles of the south. She is the daughter of Caswell Macon Thompson, only son of Jacob Thompson, secretary of the interior under President Buchanan. She was married 11 years ago. Though born in Nashville, the first four years of her life were spent in Cuba. In her native city she received her early education under the Episcopal sisters of St. Mary, afterward pursuing a course of study at Fairmount college, Montegle. At the age of 16 she went to school in Paris for two years, traveling the following year through the principal cities of Europe. The enthusiasm with which Mrs. Kirkman assumed the leadership of the woman's department of the Tennessee centennial insured its success. The nucleus of the necessary funds was obtained by issuing a woman's edition of a Nashville paper. Several times the interested women have taken charge of stores for a day, the considerable income from this source being increased by the proceeds of various entertainments. Throughout the work the fair general has shown great executive ability. The room which Mrs. Kirkman will occupy in the Woman's building is being frescoed in blue shades, with garlands of pink roses and forget-me-nots in relief. The floor is to have coverings of rugs, while the furniture will include several elegant pieces appropriate to the uses of the Tennessee hostess. There will be an excellent cafe on the roof of this building.

HAS A GOOD RECORD.

George D. Meiklejohn, the New Assistant Secretary of War.
George D. Meiklejohn is a Wisconsin man by birth. He was born in 1857, and spent the early years of his life on a farm. He received his education at the normal school at Oshkosh and the Michigan university at Ann Arbor. In 1880 he graduated from the law school and went west, bringing up at Fullerton, Neb., where he engaged in the practice of law. He was county attorney for three years and was elected to the senate of the Nebraska legislature in 1884, being reelected in 1886, when he was elected president of the senate.

Mr. Meiklejohn took an active part in republican politics, and was chairman of the republican state central committee in 1887 and 1888. In 1888 he was elected lieutenant governor of the state, and by virtue of his position was presiding officer of the convention to canvass the election returns of 1891, when there was a question of the outcome of the election.

Mr. Meiklejohn came to congress in the Fifty-third congress and was reelected to the Fifty-fourth congress. He has a wide acquaintance among public men and was very popular with his colleagues in the house.

The Deepest of Wells.

Men of science are interested in all very deep borings in the earth on account of the opportunity which they offer for experiments on the internal temperature of the globe. Gas and oil wells sometimes attain a great depth, and after they have ceased to be useful in other ways are turned to scientific account. The very deepest hole that man has yet succeeded in making in the earth is said to be near Rybnik, Silesia, where the boring through strata of coal and rock has reached a depth of about 6,770 feet. The deepest boring in this country is believed to be an oil well at Pittsburgh, which has reached a depth of 5,740 feet, but is to be bored much deeper for the sake of the information it may furnish to science.

Pneumatic Boxing Gloves.

Pneumatic boxing gloves are an improvement over the old style, as they can be made hard or soft by forcing air into their backs through a valve in the wrist.

Abe Wireman killed a school teacher named Allen with a club near Prestonburg.

For every quarter in a man's pocket there are a dozen uses; and to use each one in such a way as to derive the greatest benefit is a question every one must solve for himself. We believe, however, that no better use could be made of one of these quarters than to exchange it for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that every family should be provided with. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

The Mayfield Mirror says buffalo gnats have killed several horses in Graves county.

Mr. D. P. Davis, a prominent liveryman and merchant of Goshen, Va., has this to say on the subject of rheumatism: "I take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism, as I know from personal experience that it will do all that is claimed for it. A year ago this spring my brother was laid up in bed with inflammatory rheumatism and suffered intensely. The first application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm eased the pain and the use of one bottle completely cured him. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist."

M. C. Saufley and J. S. Owsley, Jr., have been formally declared the Democratic nominees for judge and attorney in the Danville district.

Eye waters or salves containing sugar of lead are dangerous. Sometimes sore eyes are cured with them—lead poison does not always result. Thousands of persons have lost their eyes as a result of the use of such preparations. Southland's Eagle Eye Salve contains no lead and cannot injure the eyes of a babe.

The Kenton Paper Co. of Louisville, made an assignment Saturday.

A Cure for Muscular Rheumatism.

Mrs. R. L. Lamson, of Fairmount, Illinois says: "My sister used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for muscular rheumatism and it effected a complete cure. I keep it in the house at all times and have always found it beneficial for aches and pains. It is the quickest cure for rheumatism, muscular pains and lameless I have ever seen." For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Druggist.

Chill tonic containing arsenic make children look fat—its not flesh. Arsenic puffs them up and ruins their bone—its dangerous. It should only be given by the direction of a physician. Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chill Tonic contains no arsenic. It contains no kind of poison. It cures chills permanently. It makes stout, sound bone and rich, red blood; flesh vigor and vitality.

WILLIS VAN DEVANTER.

New Assistant Attorney General
Hails from Wyoming.
Judge Willis Van Devanter, who has been appointed assistant attorney-general by President McKinley, has been a resident of Cheyenne since 1884. The judge has been prominent in Wyoming politics of recent years, and has held many important public offices, including those of city attorney of this city, member of the territorial legislature, member of the committee that compiled the territorial laws ten years ago and chief justice of the state supreme court. In 1889, when President Harrison appointed him chief justice of the territorial supreme court, Judge Van Devanter was about 30 years old, and the wisdom of the appointment was questioned on that account. He soon, however, established a wide reputation for fairness and sagacity in his decisions that brought his name to the attention of jurists outside of Wyoming, and when the territory became a state the people elected him chief justice by a large majority. He resigned the place a short time afterward to accept more lucrative employment in the practice of his profession. He has been associated with all the noted cases tried in the United States and supreme courts of the state during the past few years, and to-day he is one of the most noted lawyers west of the Mississippi river. In politics Judge Van Devanter has ever been the staunchest of republicans, and is one of the leaders of his party in the west. He was chairman of the state committee in the campaigns of 1892 and 1894, was a delegate to the St. Louis convention, and he is the representative of Wyoming on the national committee. He is a native of Indiana and was graduated from the De Pauw university and from the Cincinnati college of law. He is now 38 years old.

(Our New Assistant Attorney-General.)

CHARLEMAGNE TOWER.

New Minister to Austria is a Scholar and a Millionaire.

Charlemagne Tower, who has been nominated by the president for the post of envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Austria-Hungary, is one of Philadelphia's richest men. Mr. Tower is fond of historical research, and can well afford to indulge his favorite study. His parents left him a fortune of $10,000,000, which he has used wisely. During the past ten years of his life Mr. Tower has spent almost all his time abroad—not as a traveler, but as a student. He has studied history in many of the great universities of the continent and has passed much of his time in Spain and France. He speaks all of the modern languages fluently. The newly-appointed Austrian minister has not studied history without a purpose. He is the author of several books in that line of literature, notably a life of Lafayette, which is considered a classic. Mr. Tower was educated in a military academy at New Haven, Conn., and afterward at Phillips Exeter, and took his degree at Harvard in 1872. He at once set out for Europe and lived in Germany, France, Spain, Denmark, Sweden and Russia, the Holy Land, Greece and Egypt. After an absence of four years he returned to his home in Philadelphia, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1878. Mr. Tower later studied mining engineering and chemistry. He saw something of the west, and for a time was the president of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad. He is now a trustee of the Pennsylvania university, an officer of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, and a member of several American scientific societies and academies. He is a cultured man, aged 45.

The World's Greatest Dandy.

The greatest dandy in the world is Prince Albert of Thurn, Germany. This fastidious young man attires himself in a new suit of clothes every day, enough yearly to keep 20 experienced workmen going, and to run up a bill of $2,000. All Beau Bertie's togs are highly perfumed with attar of roses. He wears no less than 1,000 neckties during a year, being an average of three every day. A laundry employing 12 people is kept specially for washing his soiled linen, and his cast-off boots number 200 pairs a year.
